

MINOR LOCAL EVENTS.

The Smaller Happenings of a Day in and about the City.

Two hundred special policemen were sworn in at police headquarters yesterday.

Four persons were arrested in East Washington yesterday charged with wasting Potomac water.

The board of managers of Odd Fellows Hall, East Washington, met last night and transacted some routine business.

For assaulting a colored woman named Cora Kilduff, Richard Jordan was sent to jail for thirty days by Judge Smith yesterday.

The jurors of the criminal court met on the panel sitting in the case of Moore, Dempsey and Kirkwood yesterday, discharged on Tuesday next.

Mrs. Sarah Morgan, the lady who was arrested on suspicion of having stolen a watch, was released by Judge Smith yesterday.

Several young men of East Washington, while returning home late Wednesday night, saw a marine lying in the snow in the Capitol grounds almost frozen stiff. They picked him up and helped him to the marine barracks.

Instead of removing the remains of Mr. Thomas B. McFarley to Elmwood, N. J., as intended, they will be placed in a vault at Congressional cemetery. Funeral services will be held in the parlors of the National Hotel to-day at 2 o'clock.

The fair committee of the First Company, Union Veteran Corps, met at the new headquarters, 800 E street, last night. Serg. Fred Thompson presided over an important camp fire, organized after the business meeting closed. The committee will meet nightly until the 1st of March.

In the notice of the concert at the Metropolitan M. E. Church there was an inadvertent omission of the rendition of "Washington's Birthday," which was sung by the chorists composed of Misses Kila, Tucker, and Tracy, Miss Burroughs, and Messrs. McFarland, Burlew, Tracy, and Schwartz.

The navy yard employees were roused yesterday afternoon by a ring of the yard which calls the men to fire quarters. It was a false alarm, however, the explanation being that the bell had rung in an urgent position when it had stopped ringing at 1 o'clock and the jarring of the steam hammer had swung it down.

The register yesterday received the will of the late Sarah A. Boney for probate and record. The testatrix, a widow, bequeathed a portion of her personal effects and directs the sale of her real estate for funeral expenses and some small debts. The will of the late Jonas Torrey was also filed. The deceased leaves his property to be divided between his sister living in St. Francis.

Wm. M. E. Church will give a Washingtonian concert at the Metropolitan M. E. Church, at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening. The program will consist of a variety of songs, hymns, and instrumental pieces.

"FIZZLED UP"—This is a name once popular among the people of the city. The trouble proceeded from a prolonged attack of dyspepsia, which caused the patient to be unable to eat or drink. The patient was cured by the use of a small quantity of the medicine.

The concert to-night at the Congressional Church promises to be the most important event in many respects that has ever taken place in Washington. The program will be entirely made up of selections from the works of Washington composers, and both vocalists and instrumentalists will be there.

Visitors to Washington!

We are promised fine weather for Saturday, so we give a few hints how to fill up the time, as you can't be at the Monument all day. We guess you will visit the Capitol first, the next place to go is the Botanical Gardens, which are close by; then visit the Post Office and the Patent Office; on your way down to the Avenue call at the Medical Museum; next in order comes the Treasury; then the White House, after which visit the Corcoran Art Gallery. Visit above places in the order named and you will save time. With attending the "Dedication," this will be about one day's sightseeing. Before you leave Washington don't fail to visit

THE PALAIS ROYAL,

one of the handsomest buildings in Washington, noted formerly as Boss Shepherd's office; later as the Pension Office, and now as THE PALAIS ROYAL STORE, where everything for Ladies', Gents', and Children's Wear is offered at New York prices. The address is 1117-19 Pennsylvania avenue, corner of Twelfth street.
